About NavtechGPS:

Products Division Our product sales division offers an extensive selection of equipment, books and software for the professional GPS user. We represent some of the best known and most reputable manufacturers in the GNSS industry. We sell OEM receivers, sensors, antennas, signal splitters & amplifiers and complete systems for survey or GIS applications. We specialize in creating custom systems using off-the-shelf products!

Seminars Division The seminars division provides technical education and training in the form of seminars and tutorials. Our courses are highly technical and are designed primarily for engineers and technical managers. Seminars are given several times throughout the year, typically at very attractive venues and range from 1 to 5 days. Courses can be produced at your facility on a contract basis. NavtechGPS also produces 2 days of tutorials prior to the Institute of Navigation's (ION) annual GNSS conference. GSA pricing for tutorials is on the following sheet.
